OPENING OF THE MEMPHIS BRANCH. An Excursion Trip to Clarksville.

Hospitality of the Citizens of Clarksville.

RECEPTION AT STATE LINE.

Road to be Finished to Memphis by next January. One year ago, we had no direct railroad con unnication with the South or Southwest. But that stigma no longer exists; and not only is the South now brought to our doors by the Louis-ville and Nashville Railroad, which opened through last October, but Western Tennessee and the rich treasures of the great and pro-

our lap by the completion of the road to Mem-On Tuesday, the cars first passed over the Memphis Branch to the pleasant and truly prosperous city of Clarksville, thirteen miles from the Tennessee line; and thus Louisville and Clarksville, and all intermediate points are brought in direct communication each with the ductive Southwest will soon be poured into

Clarksville, on the Cumberland river, is city of between five thousand and six thousand inhabitants, surrounded in all directions by a beautiful and productive country, which is carcely excelled by any in the sister States, and s the center of a large and very profitable trade. The Cumberland is navigable to Clarksville, but during, on an average, six months in the year, t does not afford water for even the smalles boats; and not only the trade of the city, but the ecessities of the whole adjacent country deanded a railroad connection with this city, at the arliest possible moment.

When, sometime ago, the Directors of the Memphis branch promised that it should be completed through to the State line by the 1st of January, 1861, but few, indeed, believed it possible, and not many expected, not only to see the promise literally fulfilled, but actually anticipated. But, three months before the ime promised, the road is done, and the cars have gone over it; and not only is it completed, but we believe it is unequalled by any new road n the country-it is done, and well and permaently done. At the State line, this road is me by the Clarksville Railroad, which is to extend othe Tennessee river, at Paris, a distance of 83 miles, and which is now in good running or der to Clarksville, thus making the connection between that city and this perfect.

The opening of the road between these points was appropriately celebrated by those interested more directly in its completion, as well as by their citizens and those of all interm

The Board of Directors of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, accompanied by a number of gentlemen whom they had invited to accom pany them, left the depot in this city, on special train, on Tuesday morning, and stopping at the more important points on the road to Bowling Green, from thence, for the first time, passed over the Memphis Branch to the State Line, where they were met by a special train com Clarksville, on which were the officers of he Clarksville Road, the authorities of the city of Clarksville, and a large number of citizens by whom, through Mr. QUARLES, the President of the Clarksville Road, they were received and heartily welcomed to Tennessee, amid the roar of cannon, heart stirring music, and the warm ongratulations of friends who are hereafter to be neighbors.

A pleasant run of a few minutes through a country which may well claim at least equality with the garden spots of Bourbon and Fayette counties, in our own State, brought the excur-sionists to the Clarksville depot, and as the sun passed down an unclouded sky, behind the western horizon, they were welcomed in warm words of hearty greeting, fresh from honest hearts, to the present terminus of the road. Louisville and Clarksville became near neighhors and were bound together in the stro

At Clarksville, the excursionists became the guests of the Clarksville Road, and of the city f Clarksville, and well were they cared for, and obly were they entertained while they re nained. The hotels, and the houses of privat citizens were alike thrown open. The hospital handed and honest, showed what we may expect in our intercourse hereafter, with the people of this portion of Tennessee.

At night, a magnificent banquet was spread, at which several hundred were seated; and all the substantials of life, and all the delicacies of the season, prepared in every variety of cookery, and displayed in everything that could tempt the appetite or inspire th taste, were accompanied with the finest wines the most sparkling, and the intensest patriotism (of course the Union was saved)-the whole affair effecting equal credit in the hospitality, skill, taste, tact, and good judgment of the whole uled people of Clarksville. We regret that the late hour at which the excursion train returned last night, unavoidably excludes a more extended notice of the banquet, of the speeches at the State line, by Messrs. Quarles and Guthrie-of the reception at the Clarksville depot-of the city and peo ple of Clarksville, and of the road over which we passed, and its officers and managers -These things will form the staple of future articles. The positive assurances of the President of the Clarksville road justifies us in congratulating the people of Louisville, in concluding this notice, on the certainty of having thorough and direct railroad communication with Memphis before the first day of next January, an event which but few of them are execting, but which they may confidently rely THEATER.—Geraldine was performed last night, for the third time, to a fair house, only. To-night the Romance of a Poor Young Wo nan, a new play which has been quite successful elsewhere, will be produced for the first time in Louisville. With its reputation, the ability of Miss Bateman, and the excellent stock company which gives assurance that the play will be well performed, we shall look to see a large house. Miss Jenny Hight created another furd ast night, by the charming style in which she xecuted La Gitana. Beautiful and graceful, and with a manner that is irresistibly piquant and atractive, she has become at once a favorite with ur rather hypercritical public. We are glad to see that the farces are not the least attractive portions of the nightly theatri-cal entertainments. Indeed it could hardly be otherwise, with the excellent cast with which they have been presented. We have not seen, or years, afterpieces so well performed as thos of Sketches in India, Object of Interest, and the College Boy. Mr. Smith was inexpressibly funny as Dabster, Hamilton clever and dashing, as Capt. Popham, Mrs. Dickson, the pearl of oubrettes, unexceptionable as the Eton Boy, and Mrs. Lorton, very clever and perfect as the little chambermaid.

To-night, in addition to the new play of the Romance of a Poor Young Woman, the amusing farce of State Secrets will be presented, Mr. Smith as Gregory Thimblewell.

Hon. John Young Brown is beset on all sides He is in fact emphatically an unfortunate man He has got on the wrong side, and it is probable that he is becoming painfully conscious of the fact. In abandoning the Constitution, in con-senting to the surrender of the rights of his State, in bolting his own party, and in antag nizing his own antecedents, he has kicked against the pricks to little purpose, wounding and disabling only himself, and scarcely disturbng the friends of the true faith. Mr. Brown is in bad company, engaged in a bad cause, and is getting along badly generally. He is not hopessly lost; and the best thing he can do is to repent before it is too late, and return to the osom of the only orthodox church.

At Bowling Green, on Tuesday night, he agreed to divide time in a discussion with Mr. WILLIAM J. BRECKINRIDGE, of Lexington, a gentleman who has been preparing for anothe profession than politics, and who never before made a political speech. Mr. Brown and his evidently expected an easy conquest, and the Democracy feared the worst. Each party was disappointed. Mr. Brown made his speech, with the air of one who knew what he was about, and closed in a good humor with himself and the rest of mankind, little dreaming of the coming torm. After the first few moments of trifling mbarrassment natural to one in his position Mr. Breckingidge replied to Mr. Brown in a nanner and with a force and power which plaes him at once, in the estimation of some of the first men in the State and from Tennesse who heard him, among the strongest men in Kentucky. Perfectly familiar with all the facts entirely conversant with the principles en ering into the canvass, and conscious, not so nuch of his own ability, as of the strength of his cause, a leading citizen of another State assures us that he made his points with the skill of a veteran, and discussed them with the bility of a statesman. Mr. Brown, we are further informed, upon authority we cannot question, felt his defeat, and could not conceal his chagrin and mortification, and his friends do not deny that he was badly worsted.

Mr. Brown and Mr. Breckinridge are nearly the same age; they are friends, and were class mates; and feeling perfectly willing to entrust our cause into the hands of the latter, we trust they will make arrangements to speak together luring the canvass.

LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE FREIGHTS.—A gentleman from Louisville yesterday informed us that the blockade at Louisville still continued, without the least prospect of any change. There appears to be, from all accounts, very little head, but a good deal of tail, to the management of the Louisville and Nashville road. Confusion worse confounded characterizes the freight department. Every account we receive indicates incompetency or gross neglect. Either horn is bad enough, and the managers can take their choice. For the last two or three days contracts have been made via Memphis for Southern points even at higher rates.

THE STORM AT NEW ORLEANS—NOBLE ACT OF A FRENCH SALLOR.—The terrible equinoctial gale felt at New Orleans on Saturday had dread-ful effects upon the town of Milneburg, Lake Pontchartrain; the waves broke up the wharves, and destroyed a great many small crafts. One schooner was badly staved by running against the wharf. The streets were flooded, and the the wharf. The streets were flooded, and the railroad track covered with water for some distance. A fishing boat, with a young lad aboard, was capsized at some two hundred yards distance from shore. Four men jumped into a boat and went to the rescue of the lad. One of them, a Frenchman named Henry LeBreton, jumped overboard, and catching hold of the lad, had him safely transferred to the boat, but a huge wave swept off the frail craft, and he could not get on board. He held on to the keel of the capsized boat, and eried out to the men to take the lad ashore and come back for him. They obeyed, but return was impossible, and their boat, and three others that attempted to go to the rescue, were alternately swamped. austed. His generosity cost him his life.— New Orleans Courier.

Editors Louisville Courier: The State Fair opened this morning not with as large acrowd as we expected, but still with a good assemblage. The few rosy cheeked beauties of Warren present to-day carried themselves with a gloriously bewitching manner, astif they felt their wondrous influence and were determined to wield it. The yeomanry and chivalry will be here when their claims to supremacy are challenged. The Harrodsburg Brass Band, lead by Mr. Rawden, "discoursed most eloquent music" as they are accustomed to say, and in truth their playing was excellent. We have heard bands with greater reputations whose execution was infinitely inferior to that of the Harrodsburg band. An old "typo" friend is among those who contribute to the harmony. the harmony.

The first ring to-day was for four year old bulls and upwards, then three year old, two year old, &c., &c. Cows and heiters came next, of different ages. In five regular rings Mr. Wm. We have not met Mr. Lewis, of the Commonwealth, for some years, but we almost shouted, when we found to-day that the "green bay tree" had not withered, but like the evergreen, he flourished for evermore. Vive la Lewis. Then our sanctum was illuminated by the kindly glow that linger's in our friend Washburne's face. He "norates" for the Owensboro Democrat, and if our Bell opponents, and mislead Douglasites would hearken to his teachings, there would be a glorious vote in his county for the noble Breckintidge. a glorious vote in his county for the noble Breckinridge.

Col. Geo. W. Johnson followed in a close, Col. Geo. W. Johnson followed in a close, compact, and well considered presentation of the principles of the National Democracy. He planted himself impregnably upon the Constitution and the equality of the States, and defied the opponents of Breekinridge and Lane to successfully assail any position of those eminent statesmen. His speech was a calm, foreible, and masterly argument. It was one to set the people thinking; which they will remember and ponder over in quiet, and which will unquestionably bear good fruit in November. Col. Johnson is a plain farmer, but a gentleman of the information, extensive reading, and a readiness in debate which makes him more than a match for his competitors. Besides, he has the hearts of the people with him. They know him to be one of themselves—a plain, frank, candid, outspoken man, in whom there is no deceit or guile, and whose statements can be implicitly relied upon.

Honging At The State Prison.—We learn from Mr. Miller, Warden of the State Prison, that between seven and eight o'clock has evening, a convict named Marion Summers was stabbed by another convict named Abraham Goce. It appears that both the member of the cell house, Summers standing against the wall, when Goce, after using some menacing language, rushed upon deceased with a short, sharp knife, such as are used in bottoming chairs, and struck him in the breast. Summers staggered back and picked up a brick under a stove, and attempted to throw it, but fell downand in five minutes was a corpse, the knife having penetrated to the heart. No cause for the murder is known, as there was no quarrel between them, so far as the officers of the prison are aware. Goce afterwards said he killed Summers in self-defen.

Indian Fight in Texas. The following appears in the San Antonio

Herald of the 7th inst .: Capt. S. D. Sturgis, 1st Cavalry, commanding the southern column of the Kioway and Camanche Expedition, which moved from Fort Cobb, in the Department of Texas, some weeks since, reports that on the 7th ult. he came up with a large body of Camanches and Kioways, and, he thinks, Cheyonnes, estimated at from six hundred to eight hundred, on the "Republican," about sixty miles southwest of Fort Kearny.

from the nature of the engagement, and the country over which it was fought, it probably will be impossible to tell with certainty the ac-tual loss of the Indians. The loss to the troops was one man missing—supposed to have been killed—and three wounded; two friendly Indians were also killed.

THE DURL—Good Joke.—It appears that our account of the duel was not exactly correct.—The duel was an impromptu afair, and was designed as a joke. One of the principals was previously made aware of the fact that the pistols were not to be loaded, and that at the first fire he was to fall, when Stoughton's bitters would be used to supply the use of blood. So the seconds were appointed, and Hopefield was selected as the place for the hostile combat. The paces being walked off, and all the preliminaries settled, the first shot was exchanged, when one of the party, as previously agreed upon, fell to the earth, and the red bitters being applied to the right side, the other party thought he had killed his man, and left immediately for parts unknown. The remainder of the duelling party, while enjoying the joke played off upon the absentee, were arrested by the Arkansas officers, and being unable to give ball, were committed to jail. So, it turns out that the biters were bitten—that the jokers had to pay dearly for the whistle.—[Memphis Enquirer.

The "Wide Awakes."

The "Wide Awakes."

The Abolition newspapers constantly inform a visit the utmost sang froid, that there are also formed to the North ready and eager, any moment, to enact John Brown raids and forays, of poisoning and arson, similar to that which was lately consummated in Texas; and that these men are only restrained from present outrage by the existence of a conservative and national Administration, willing and able to employ theorns of the Federal Government to repress insurrection and repel invasion.

Senator Douglas has most insolently and definantly proclaimed from the stump, in Norfolk, and the proclaimed from the stump, in Norfolk.

tly proclaimed from the stump, in Norfolk intention to advise and assist Abraham Lin ditionist domination.

Thus it appears that whether the South shall submit to or oppose Abolition rule, we are to submit to or oppose Abolition rule, we are to expect invasion in any event. Indications of this state of feeling at the North, much more serious than the boasts of the press or the threats of the stump, are crowding fast upon our attention. Among these is the numerous and efficient organizations of "Wide-Awake" clubs.

These organizations are of a mixed character, stitution, and "officers to regulate purely busi-ness transactions." Each club is also regularly and commanded by military officers. The name "Wide Awake" was the designation by which John Brown's company was known in Kansas, and was adopted in compliment to that informed us that already more than 100,000 able bodied young men were enrolled in the "Wide Awake" clubs. From all accounts, the number has greatly increased since this announcement was made.

So large a body of men, composed of the rowdy materials of Northern cities, rejoicing in such a nomenclature, and compacted in military organization, drill and discipline, will doubtless furnish a very ready arm, either for "coercion" under the joint command of Messrs.

prepare thoroughly for the work before us. Let us have no more threats, or "last extremity" resolutions.

It will be more than difficult to convince our enemies at this moment, at any threats on our part are more than idle vaporing. Indeed, the attitude itself, of determined resistance to oppression, will be regarded as a mere threat intended only to influence the pending election.

A few months ago, such an attitude would of itself, we believe, have accomplished, ere this, the entire disorganization of the Black Republican party and the repeal of every nullifying statute from Vermontto Iowa. But the Legislature of Virginal timidly permitted the opportunity to slip. Preventive—that is, thoroughly preventive—measures on the part of the Southern States are now out of the question. If the conservative men of the North are not earnest enough and strong enough to save us, there is no hope of safety in any reliance on the fears of Northern rowdies, fanatics and agitators. Nor will it serve any good purpose for us to wait, wranging with each other on hypothetical questions about ultimata. What we have to do now is simply what our enemies are doing. We must organize, arm, drill, and discipline with all our might—not in "clubs," but in battalions, formed according to the prescribed laws of our several States—not for bravado or parade, but calmly and faithfully, like men with a sad prospect before us, and determined to be prepared for the worst. "Deliberate promptitude" is now the watchword.

In Virginia, the work of organizing and equipping new volunteer corps has been progressing bravely during the past twelve months. We trust that there will be no relaxation in this respect. We cannot have too many companies are still altogether unsupplied with campequipage. This should be attended to, and can be, to a great extent, remedied by individual contributions and accareful husbanding of company funds. Every citizen soldier can find something useful todo. The way in which the delinquents take their detection, is really refreshing. One says that "it was all a mistake about him; that he had nothing, whatever, to do with the matter, and that it was all a fuss about nothing, anyhow." Yet dame Rumor, if she can be believed, credits the same man with making $84 on a single trip, which fact was brought home to him so clearly before the "Covode committee," as the parties charged with the investigation of the frauds are termed, that he had to acknowledge the corn and make good the amount, as well as several other little sums, which had slipped into his possession in the same unconscious and illegitimate manner. Then another tells you that he defies the company, and points to the fact that he is still in its employ as evidence of his innocence. But so prone is the world to be uncharitable, and look upon the dark side of everything, that this man is reported to have amassed a large fortune on the road, and that when asked before the committee how, with a salary of but $60 a month, he contrived in a few years to accumulate $35,000, his answer was that as soon as the party who put the question, and who is said to be worth $300,000 himself, would explain how he made his money, he would give a satisfactory reply. The question was not pressed further, and the conductor left the stand, still master of his $35,000 secret. But as we have stated, all these reports must be taken with a great deal of allowance. It may be that when the facts come to be published, the very men of whom report speaks worst now, may be least to blame. And the public, we are sure, would be highly gratified to hear that it was so, as the most blamed are the most popular men on the road, and the last whom we would see degraded.

Letter from Scott County.

[Correspondence of the Louisville Courier.] WHITE SULPHUR, Monday, Sept. 17, 1360. Editors Louisville Courier: In Scott, as in every other county of the Commonwealth, the mouthly court day invariably draws together the masses. They come to sue and be sued; to traffic, barter, dicker, trade, buy, sell and be sold. So to-day Georgetown was overflowing with the sovereigns, and from morning till nightfall, the usually quiet little place, "loveliest village of the plain," was in a ferment of excitement. The streets were crowded with people, and the voices of the loud-mouthed auctioneers were heard on every square, "going, going, gone," as they knocked down horses, and hogs, and steers, and sheep, and mules, and mulattoes. The market for stock was, however, on a drag, and a general complaint was expressed by sellers of the exceeding meagreness of purchasers and prices. Still there was a considerable quantity of four-footed animals disposed of, and a sprinkling of Africans brought to the block.

iation of slave property, by the Bell-But the great feature of the day, and that which drew the crowd, was the political discussion between the electors for this Congressional District. Dr. Jackson, of Fayette, opened the ball on behalf of the Squatter candidate. Do you know the doctor? Did you ever see him? Did you ever hear of him before the candidacy of Doughas? It would require the pencil of Hogarth to delineate the M. D. It would take the genius of Irving, in its most fantastic words, to convey to the reader an adequate pen and ink sketch of this apologist of the Little Giant. He is the very embodiment of the grotesquein manner and matter; and there is a and ink sketch of this apologist of the Little Giant. He is the very embodiment of the grotesque in manner and matter; and there is a perfect homogenity in the man, the candidate, and the principle (if they can be so dignified), which he advocates. Noted all his life for idyosineracies, he has at last mounted the proper hobby, and is riding Douglasism to death, with all the intensity and flerceness of a monomaniae; for Douglasis the central sun of his existence, the alpha and omega of his political creed. But concerning his speech. Would you have me follow a serpentine track and define its curves? Would you have me bottle the froth and foam of a bottle of ginger pop? Would you have your readers inflicted with the reduction of absurdum of political arguments? If so, ad absurdum of political arguments? If so, draw on me at sight, and I shall try and accommodate you by a synopsis of Dr. Jackson's speech. It was erooked and frothy, and the

Our intelligence from liciting our support for Major BRECKINRIDGE, all quarters is of the most gratifying character. his friends did what they could to dissuade us BRECKINKINGE is gaining daily, and it only requires determined work and persistent, enerfrom voting for him. As the Democracy of Kentucky had adopted a platform of principles similar to those adopted getic action to carry our good old State for him by a rousing majority. We can be defeated only by the Convention of the Missouri Democracy, by the most criminal apathy and neglect on our own part. If we but do half our duty, the day which sent us as delegates, and regarding Mr. GUTHERE as an able statesman, a pure man, and possessing great administrative ability, we conis ours, and we, therefore, entreat the friends of sound principles to put on their armor and bear cluded to join Kentucky in her support of him, themselves as becoming brave, honest and deand we voted for him fifty odd times. Douglasism and Republicanism. The Black Republicans are delighted with the present position of Douglas, and with the Bellveretts are earnestly encouraging him to persevere in his efforts to defeat the Democratic party. The Cincinnati Gazette, a leading Black Republican paper, looks to the permanent ac-cession of the Douglasites to the Republican ranks, and we think not without good reason. Where Squatterism is preached to-day, Black Republicanism will be tolerated a year hence, and before the next Presidential election it will be seen that the bulk of those who now support, Douglas will occupy front seats in the Republican Church. The Gazette says:

We are free to say that we believe a large proportion of his supporters, however it may be with Mr. Douglas himself, will be in the Republican ranks before two years have passed. They can have no other ultimate destination, without shoulding? On their confirm "doubling" on their course, and going back to the platform of Buchanan and Breckinridge. While the Belleveretts, [in Kentucky are pretending to be the only true Union men, it seems the leaders of this miserable party, in Alabama, are rampant secessionists. The following, from the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser of the 16th inst., we commend to the attention of our Union-saving contemporary of the Jour nal:

Thes. H. Watts, Esq., of this city, by all odds the leading and commanding spirit of the Bell and Everett forces in our State, took the position in his speech at Tuskegee, on Friday, that the election of Lincoln is sufficient cause for secsion! We would like to hear what the other BellEveretters in this State have to say in reference to the position of Mr. Watts on that important

The Rhode Island irrepressibles tried one of se "highest phase" John Brown candidates for Governor last spring, and failed; but Garrison lives and labors in the Massachussetts vine yard, and there his friends expect to do better.

Letter from R. F. Lakeman, Esq., of Missouri. We publish in another column this morning an interesting letter from R. F. BRECKINRIDGE.

will end, and that the "irrepressible conflict" will be pressed to its infamous and bloody close.

At such a moment the proclamation of such sentiments by Judge Douglas, (coming immediately after Seward's Boston speech,) uttered here at the South, and addressed to the citizens of a State whose Executive declared to General Jackson that Federal troops should only cross her borders over the bodies of her sons, by a man from the North, from the neighborhood of Lincoln himself, a candidate for the Presidency, volunteering his counsel to Lincoln, and, in the event of his election, his aid to wage war upon our people and to slay them in battle as rebels, or hang them in cold blood as traitors, if they shall render obedience to State rather than Federal authority, is repugnant to every sense of right, and merits from the people of the South the severest rebuke. Such a rebuke we sincerely hope will be given the doctrine and its author at the November elections.

What the British Court Think of the Reception of the Prince of Wales.—It is stated that private letters from distinguished gentlemen connected with the British Court, state that the Queen and Prince Consort, and the Royal Family generally, are delighted with the Prince's reception in America, and look forward with still greater pleasure to the sort of welcome he

This question maturally comes up in the mind of every one who looks at the course and reads the speeches now being made by Judge Doughas. We find him everywhere assailing the Administration and Mr. Breckinridge. He has nothing to say against John Bell, nor against his old rival and enemy, Lincoln. With the Know Nothing candidate, John Bell, he has entered into a cealition in various States, and is prepared to do so wherever such coalition can be made available against Mr. Breckinridge and his friends. With such facts constantly presented, is it any wonder that the question, "Is he a Democrat" is so often asked? Is it not evident to all minds that Mr. Douglas is working to divide and destroy the Democratic party? Is it not an undeniable fact that he shows great anxiety to defeat Breckinridge, while he manifests no opposition to the fanatical Lincoln or the Know Nothing Bell?

Can Southern men, under such circumstances, give support to Mr. Douglas? Can true Democrat anywhere aid him in this crusade against the Democratle party? Can any man be a Democrat who prefers the election of an open and avowed enemy to a true, tried, and patriotic Democrat with whom he may differ in opinion upon some single point of doctrine? The question is one that should be met honeatly and frankly; and if such course be (as we believe it is) utterly inconsistent with true Democracy, then every true Democrat throughout the country should indignantly refuse to support any man who thus proves himself unworthy of confidence.—[Baltimore Republican.

Mr. Johnston was last winter Assistant Secretary of the Senate, elected by the Democratic Senators. He now elaims to be a Douglas man, but for a consideration, edits a Bell paper. In his address, Mr. Douglas declares that if the Southern States (not a part, but all) shall secode from the Union, upon the inauguration of Abraham Lincoln, it will be the duty of the President of the United States, who, in the case supposed, will be Lincoln, by arms, to punish or subduce them, and that he will counsel him to do so, and aid him to do so by all the means in his power. a man to the Presidency of the United States, by the vote alone of one section, who is pledged to use all she powers of the Government for the destruction of the rights and property of the other section, would not justify the weaker in resistance, but that if in such an event the fifteen Southern States should assume to determine on the extent of their danger, and to quictly withdraw from it, he should regard their action as revolt, and as such to be punished with all the force of the Government. Than this we can conceive of no doctrine more dangerous to the South. It confounds resistance to established law by individuals, which it would be the duty of the Chief Magistrate to punish, with the peaceable secession of States from a compact no longer consistent with the interest or existence of its constituents; but it treats the Union as a perpetual bond, exacting unconditional submission forever from a weaker to a stronger section. It strips the States of the chief attribute of sovereignty, to-wit: the right to determine, when their existence is put to hazard, as to the means necessary to their preservation, and affirms that, while it is legitimate in the people of the North having control of the General Government, through it, to inflict upon the States of the South whatever wrongs it may be consistent with their interest or feelings to impose, it would be treason in the people of the South to obey the order of their States in opposition to federal authority.

Fraught with error as this doctrine is, subversive of that constitutional theory in which alone the rights of the States are to be found, it has at this moment, and under the circumstances, a bloody significance. The enemies of the South in the Northern States have selected Abraham Lincoln to lead them in the "irrepressible conflict" will be pressed to its infamous and bloody close.

First Fair in the West, at Lexington, Kentucky.

To Kentucky belongs the honor of having organized the first State Agricultural Society in the West, and the first Agricultural Fair in the West was gotten up by Col. Lewis Sanders, the celebrated importer of Durham cattle, in 1817. At the close of the war of 1812, Col. Sanders was living at Lexington, and was deeply interested in Agriculture. Observing the beneficent influences of cattle shows cast of the Alleghenies, and in England, he determined to tryits influence upon Kentuckians. He published in the Lexington newspapers that a "Grand Cattle Show and Fair, free for everybody, would come off on his farm, adjoining Sandersville, on the — day of July, 1816. Premiums in silver cups to be awarded." The five Judges were named, viz: Harry Innis, of Franklin, Judge of the Federal Count; Mr. Nathaniel Hart, of Woodford county; Capt. John Fowler, of Lexington, Col. Hubbard Taylor, of Clarke; and Capt. John Jonett, of Bath—a "good judge of men and animals."

The novelty attracted an immense assemblage.

Jonett, of Bath—a "good judge of men and animals."

The novelty attracted an immense assemblage.
"Nothing like it had been seen in the country before. The finest cattle in the State were tiere. Capt. Smith's famous bull, Buzzard, (named after the famous English race horse,) Instip's magnificent brindle bull, and many other fine cattle of each sex, of the old Patton breen. There was a good display of sheep, (fine wool being then of great importance,) hogs, &c. The judges exercised the duties as signed them with assiduity, awarding and distributing the premiums of fifteen to twenty silver sups, costing $12 each. Among the visitors were Governor Poindexter, and other prominent men.

The next year another Fair was held at the same place, with similar success. These fairs were held on Col. Sanders' farm. He selected and named the judges, and upon his personal application, the citizens of Lexington contributed mamed he plagos, and upon his personal appor-cation, the citizens of Lexington contributed the funds to pay for the silver cups.

At the second exhibition, it was determined to organize: State Agricultural Society, and at a meeting appointed at Lexington, a constitution was adopted, and Governor Isaac Shelby was elected President, and Thomas T. Barr Secreta-ry. The next year a "Cattle Show and Fair" was held at Lexington, and two others were held under the same organization at Lexington, at "Fowler's Garden." Bourbon county was the first to branch off from the Lexington organi-zation, and held Fairs for the county. The present Kentucky State Agricultural Society was erganized January 3d, 1838.

This Fair, once famous in Irish song and story, when the Lord Mayor of Dublin went in procession, and dined in a tent set apart for him, and the "Quality" used to join in the dance and the frolic—latterly the diagrace of Ireland, as the resort of the thieves and gamblers of the United Kingdom, and the corruption of the thoughtless by drunkenness and debauchery—is at last extinct.

by drankenness and decountery is as large trinct.

The following, from the Freeman, will tell the tale of its overthrow. The city is extending in that direction, and a splendid Protestant church, in connection with the Molyneux Asylum for blind females, and a magnificent Roman Catholic parish church are in progress of erection in the neighborhood:

blind females, and a magnificent Roman Catholic parish church are in progress of erection in the neighborhood:

This annual gathering of infamy and reckless depravity is dead—stone dead. Yesterday being the Sunday preceding the 26th instant, was, or was to have been, "walking Sunday," but the famed "Brook!" was deserted, and the "interested Individuals" looked townwards in vain for the arrival of their dupes and fools from the city.—Many were the lamentations passed on the departed glories of the "Brook," when thousands of men were made stark mad with liquid poison, manufactured specially for the fair—when young women were ruined by hundreds and sens out abandoned outcasts on the streets—when thieres and robbers held their carnival, and when vivid glimpses of hell were seen on earth. How the "interested persons" did mourt and complain of the injustice of preventing the people taking "rational enjoyment and recreation," and the said interested parties were unanimous in their determination to make an attempt to hold "the fair" on this day week, and to postpone "walking Sunday" to the next Sabbath. The authorities are well prepared to meet a move of this kind, and the first person who puts his foot on the fair green without the sanction of Mr. Buler, the proprietor, will be given in charge as a tresspasser. It is most graitfying to be enabled to state that the people have taken the affectionate and parental advice of the good Archbishop to keep away from Donnybrook Fair, and the promoters of this annual abomination may rest assured that the working classes of Dublin will prefer to listen to and act on the advice of their Archbishop and clergy than to be led away to folly and misery by persons who have no object to serve but their own pecuniary interests.

Much laughter was occasioned on the arrival of the Trafalgar steamer at the North wall yesterday, by an all frezoo artist appearing on the dack with his "merry goround." The proprietor of the rotary contrivance, which was called the "Flying Dutchman," was sadly p when he was informed that he had taken his long voyage wish all his traps for nothing, and it would be well for his brother practitioners in Liverpool and elsewhere not to lose their time and money by coming here, as no fair will be permitted to be held at Donnybrook. Men with wheels of fortune and "trick-o'-the-loop" have already taken the hint, and have gone west to try "fickle fortune" at rustic fairs and horse races. The police have received their orders, and they will act up to them vigorously; and all good men have reason to congratulate themselves that measures have been taken to put an end forever to that national disgrace, social peat, and nuisance—"Donnybrook Fair." Natural Barometer.

The spider, says an eminent naturalist, is almost universally regarded with disgust and abhorrence; yet, after all, it is one of the most interesting, if not the most unseful, of the insect tribe. Since the days of Robert Bruce, it has been celebrated as a model for perseverance, while in industry and ingenuity it has no rival among insects. But the most extraordinary fact in the natural history of this insect, is the remarkable presentiment it appears to have of an approaching change in the weather. Barometers, at best, only forstell the state of the weather with certainty for about twenty-four hours, and are frequently very fallible guides, particularly when they point to activate far. But we may be sure the weather will be fine twelve or fourteen days, when the spider makes the principal threads of his web very long. This insect, which is one of the most conomical animals, does not commence a work requiring such a great length of threads, which it draws out of its body, unless the state of the atmosphere indicates with certainty that this great expenditure will not be made in vain. Let the weather be ever so bad, we may conclude with certainty that it will soon change to be settled fair when we see the spider repair the damages which his infallible indication of the state of the weather must be in many instances, particularly to agriculturists.

WHAT WE ARE MADE OF .- The following is

What we are made or.—The following is from an article by O. W. Holmes:

If the reader of this paper lives another year, his self-conscious principle will have migrated from his present tenement to another, the raw materials even of which are not yet put together. A portion of that body of which is to be, will ripen in the corn of his next harvest. Another portion of his future person he will purchase, or others will purchase for him, headed up in the form of certain barrels of potatoes. A third fraction is yet to be gathered in the southern rice field. The limbs with which he is then to walk will be clad with fiesh borrowed from the tenants of many stalls and pastures, now unconscious of their doom.

The very organs of speech with which he is to talk so wisely, plead so eloquently, or speak so effectively, must first serve his humble brethren to bleat, to bellow, and for all the varied uterance of bristled or feathered barnyard life. His bones themselves are, to a great extent, in posse, and not see. A bag of phosphate of lime, which he has ordered for his grounds, contains a large part of what is to be his skeleton. And more than all this, and by far the greater part of his body is nothing at all but water, the main substance of his scattered members is to be looked for in the reservoir, in the running streams, at the bottom of the well, in the clouds that float over his head, or diffused among them all.

O Thomas Thumb!—The papers all declare
That you, dear General, are about to wed;
To take (in short) unto your board and bed,
A Portland damsel, wealthy, young, and fair.
Why not? there's many a husband in the land
Whose wife "looke down upon him" every day;
And yours could do no more; besides, they say
All men "aspire" to reach a lady's hand!
Yet, could you manage to select your she

BRANDRETH'S PILLS

Are growing more in favor, with the public. It is now conceded they are the best purgative yet put forth from the world of medicine. The time will surely arrive when they will supercede all other purgatives whatever. The ingredients of which they are composed can scarcely be obtained by druggists or the makers of other pills. Dr. BRANDREW has them grown and prepared without regard to the expense. And this care to make a popular purgative is appreciated, as their sales indicate. Other purgatives are dragging a flickering existence. And yet they may have some merit. But BRANDREW'S PILLS are safe and sure—safe, because they operate solely to impure huand sure-safe, because they operate solely to impure hi nors. No valuable fluid is touched; only effete or worn out material, which, when taken out of the body, leaves out material, which, when taken out of the body, leaves it stronger. They are as pleasant as a truly effective medicine can be. To say that they will not sometimes give pain would not be true, but the pain they give is only because they remove those crude and bad humors from the blood which are the occasion of disease. They open nature's avenues, and this cannot always be done pleas-antly. antly.

CAUTION. SPURIOUS AMERICAN WATCHES.

WE are credibly informed that some of the Jewelers of isville and other places are selling counterfeit and mitation American Watches for the genuine article, anufactured at Waltham, Mass., and particularly a for elgn imitation of our watch, named P. S. Bartley, which is represented to be manufactured in Hartford, Conn. 1 may be of service to the public to be informed that ther is no manufactory of watches in that place. The genuin article of one grade of our watches is named P. S. BAR BIT, WALTERM, MASS, and all our watches of every grad are marked "Waltham, Mass."

It is hardly necessary to state that such watches are like ours in form only, and are made upon the same old system that has already flooded the country with watches that are not only vexatious and a constant source of expense, but really useless to the owners, and when bought for genuine are calculated to injure the high reputation which our watches have attained. We therefore caution the public against buying our watches from any perso watch offered for sale, bearing the number of the watch Robbins. We also beg to inform those who deal in the spurious article, that legal proceedings will be instituted their selling a counterfeit or colorable imitation of any of our products.

DEPARTURES. Lady Pike, Cin; Key West, Pitts; Sunny South, " Grey Eagle, Henderson:

THE RIVER was rising rather slowly yester day, with four feet three inches water in the canal by the mark in the evening. During the previous ty-four hours it had risen only two inches at th ad of the falls, and five inches at Portland, making head of the falls, and ave inches at Portiand, making eight and a half feet on the bar. The weather is clear and pleasant. Along the lower Ohio the rise may keep the river at its present stage, with five and and a half to six feet water on the bars.

At Cincinnati, yesterday, the river had fallen four inches, and it was falling at Pittsburg at noon, with tour feet water in the channel.

Orieans and Mobile last Saturday was very severe, sinking five boats at the latter port. At New Or-leans it was so violent that no boats could leave port nty-four hours, and all others were compelled to lie up wherever the storm caught them. The fol-lowing is from the New Orleans Delta, of Sunday: lowing is from the New Orleans Delta, of Sunday:
The equinoctial visitation came upon us yesterday morning, bright and early, and the gale blew with brief intermission till late in the evening. There was any quantity of rain with it, and, altogether, it was as cheeriess day. On the levee but little was doing, and many of the boats find to lie over.
From Red river the accounts are still favorable.
The Shreveport Southwester, of the 12th, reports a rise of six feet. Still we cannot hope for much inprovement as long as the Mississippi remains low, and is a draw back on mavigation between the mouth of Red river and Alexandria. A rise in Ounchita is also reported. The Buffington, it is said, has gone up to Camden.

OFFICE LOUISVILLE COURIER, There has been a very material falling off in bus sess within the past ten days, and the market ma e reported dull in all departments. There are but ery few Southern orders on hand. Our jobbers and dry goods dealers are meeting with a hill in thei sales, and the Grain and Produce market is ver quiet, with no movement whatever on the part of speculators. This will give the market time to fairly settle, and in the end prove beneficial to dealers and improve the fail trade. The Money market, though nominally unchanged, is very stringent, with happi-y only a limited demand.

The weather is clear and pleasant, with heavy rains early in the week, which have improved the prospects for the crops; while the river continues at an excellent navigable stage for the season of the year. In fact, we have had no low water this

From New York.

New York.

New York, Sept. 19.—The action of the recent Railroad Convention in this city has been erroneously stated. It was decided to give each of the four lines from Boston, westward, a water tariff to central points in the West. The rates to be charged over the routes are to be 15c on the first class, IIc on the second, 7c on the third, and 5c on the fourth class freights, more than from New York to the leading west-ern cities thus placing New York nearer the Boston rates than previously in regard to the petition of the western companies for the privilege of controlling the rates for eastern bound freight. The Convention adopted a resolution recognizing and cordially approving of the association of the two lines of railroad connecting the East with Cincinnati and Indianapolis, and agreeing hereafter to consult the head of such association in making any changes in rates of eastern bound traffic.
